In order that we may be able to fill up vacancies amongst Officers in the field as already indicated in paragraph 6 of my note dated 20-7-1917 on file No Army 227-16, a reserve of four officers ought in my opinion be formed at once. They may, if newly recruited, be treated as probationers and made to draw a pay of Rs 50/- only till they are sent to the front and are absorbed in the vacancies existing in the Regiment.

2) Owing to earlier arrangements not having been made in this direction there are now a large number of vacancies among Officers in the Regiment which have got to be quickly filled up and if the vacancies are not all to go to Non-Commissioned Officers, steps should be taken to transfer at once two Quarter Young Officers of the Cadet grade in the Mysore Horse and also appoint probationers and train them as suggested above.

There may be no provision for this, but I think in the interests of maintaining the general efficiency of Officers in the Regiment, a small reserve as suggested above is very necessary and has to be made without further delay.

A similar arrangement is, I consider, necessary in the case of the Transport Corps also.

Final Note by the Second Member of Council.

Subject:—

B In accordance with His Highness' order dated the 21st May 1917, the Chief Commandant was asked

(1) to propose arrangements for training educated persons to fill up 25 per cent of the vacancies that might occur in the ranks of the officers of the Imperial Service Regiment in the Field, and

(2) to suggest the names of two suitable officers in the last grade of Jamadars in the Mysore Horse for being transferred to the Imperial Service Regiment to fill up vacancies, for which two Jemadars had been temporarily appointed.

x Jemadar Troop Commanders 5th Grade.

Jeevan Rao Bomney and Abdul Rahimon Binturi.

2 The Inspecting Officer who was consulted by the Chief Commandant states that a reserve of 2 to 4 trained officers may be created but that they should be supernumeraries in the Depot for about six months and subsequently in the field till they become thoroughly efficient and that in the meantime vacancies should be filled up as they occur by giving promotions to efficient and experienced individuals on the regular strength. He is also of opinion that the question of the absorption of the supernumerary officers may be considered after they are fully trained in the field.

3. While agreeing with these views, the Chief Commandant states that there are at present no suitable officers in the Mysore Horse for being transferred to the Imperial Service Regiment

Regiment to take the places of the temporary officers referred to above and recommends that as temporary promotions to the rank of officers are, according to India Army orders irregular, the two temporary Jamedars may be confirmed in their present places. This recommendation may be approved.

4. If in addition to filling up the vacancies in the regular establishment a reserve of officers is to be kept as supernumeraries, additional expenditure of an avoidable kind would have to be incurred for the supernumeraries will not be fit for Military duties for at least a year and then they will have to wait for vacancies. They will have to be given some pay all the time. The consideration of the proposal to keep a reserve of officers may therefore be deferred for the present.

Sir,

With reference to your letter No.G.1171/Mily.43-17-1 dated 28th July 1917, I have the honor to state that the undermentioned Officers of the Mysore Horse received direct commissions:-

1. JemadarSrinivasa Murthi.
2. -do- Nanjaraj Urs
3. -do- Shama Rao Sindhay

of the above No.1 and 2 can just read and write a little English No.1 was sent away to Mysore Horse as he was, not fit for Imperial Service Lancers. No.2 is not much good No.3 will be transferred as soon as he shows improvements in his work in the Mysore Horse.

2. I am not aware of the standard of education which Government wishes to be fixed for candidates applying for direct commissions in the Imperial Service Lancers. Until now, no one whom I could call "educated" has applied for commission. I shall therefore publish a notice in the Mysore Gazette calling for application from persons who have passed at least the Intermediate Examination. A copy of the Notice I am sending to the Gazette is forwarded herewith for being kindly caused to be published in the "Daily Post" and "Karnataka."

Secretary to Govt of H.H.the Maharaja of Mysore General Department, Bangalore

Sir,

In continuation of my letter No.1266 dated the 2nd i-nstant, I have the honor to state that in regard to the proposal of the Durbar for reserving 25% of vacancies of last grade Jemadars of the Imperial Service Lancers in the Field for the educated young men, the Inspecting Officer, is of opinion that according to India Army Orders Nos.561 of 12-10-1914, 100 of 8-3-1915, 568, and 642 of 1915 copies enclosed, temporary promotions to Officers rank sanctioned by Government vide Notification No.G.16206/Mily.213-16-6 dated 28th May 1917, are not regular and that it is undersireable to introduce such a custom, vide his No.1520 dated 30th July 1917 copy attached. I request you therefore to kindly obtain the early sanction of Government for the confirmation of the two temporary Jemadars noted in the margin.

Jemadar Troop Commander 5th Grade Jeevan Rao Bomney

Jemdar Troop Commander 5th gr-ade Abdul Rahimon Binturi.

2. With regard to the --- possibility of training officers in the Depot for filling up the 25% vacancies of Jemadars in the Field, I also enclose a copy of Inspecting Officer's No.1521 dated 31st July 1917 in the matter. It will be seen that the Inspecting Officer is in favour of appointing suitable candidates as probationers and putting them under training in the Depot. When sufficiently trained and suitable they may be sent to the Field but still on probation and as supernumeraries until they are found to be thoroughly efficient in every way. As

(24)

As Direct Commissions will be lacking in experience, in routine duties as well as in ~~Mily.~~ Military knowledge they will not be fit to take any place of command directly they are sent to the Field. The Inspecting Officer further states that during peace time a --- probationer may be appointed for a vacancy, but in time of war, it is undesirable, and that all vacancies should be filled at once with efficient and experienced individuals. The probationers appointed should therefore be supernumeraries until they are efficient and the minimum number of such probationers to be maintained under training in the Depot may be limited to 2 and the maximum to 4 for the present.

3. I agree with the views of the Inspecting Officer in the matter and request that early orders of Government may be kindly obtained on the several points referred to.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

Copy of India Army Order No.381 dated 13th October 1914.

581. Organization-India Army:- The following rules of promotion of Indian ranks in units on field service during the present war have been approved by the Government of India, and are published for the informati of all concerned:-

(1) The Officer Commanding a unit in the field will make all promotions in his unit.

In the case of promotions to and in the ranks of Indian Officer his action must be approved by the General Officer Commanding the War Division. This approval (together wit the name of the Indian Officer in whose place the promotio is made, and the date from which it is to have effect) wil be reported to the Adjustant General in India as early as possible with a view to the publication of the promotion i the Gazette of India.

(2) Men of a linked (or other) Regimenter Battalion attached to and proceeded with a unit on field service, will be re--garded, for propose of promotion, as belonging to the unit in the Field. The Officer Commanding the unit in the fie will consider these men, with his own for this purpose.

(3) Similarly men of a unit proceeded on field service, sent t a linked (or other) Regiment or Battalion in return for draft supplied to it on mobilization, will be held to belo to such Regiment or Battalion for purpose of promotion.

(4) Promotions will be made under the following circumstances:-

(a) On definite information of a death vacancy.
(b) On definite information of a man being made a prisoner of war.

These promotions will be permanent.

(c) In place of a wounded man and
(d) In place of a missing man.

Temporary promotions in these two cases will be made in the case of Non-commissioned Officers.

When one month has elapsed, and if the vacancies still exist, these temporary promotions will be made permanent.

Temporary promotions cannot be made in the case of Indian Officers, but vacancies due to causes(c) and (d) will be fille up with permanent promotions after the lapse of one months

All promotions will take effect from the date of casuslty.

Temporary promotions will carry full pay.

(5) The Officer Commanding a unit in the field, as generally responsible for the promotions of men left at his Depot, is empowered to adjust these, as far as lies in his power, with these made in the field, and may make such antedates, without pay, as he may consider necessary to safeguard the interests of men left behind or to adjust any obvious anomaly.

(6) A surplus of Indian Officers and Non-commissioned officers caused by the arrival of a draft or the return to duty of missing or wounded men, will be absorbed into the next vacancie as they occur.

(7) An Indian officer or Non_commissioned officer who, under the provisions of this order, accepts promotion in a unit other tha his own, way, if required be held to serve permanentlt in the unit in which he receives such promotion.

In case of doubt His Excellency, the Commander-in-Chief in India will decide in which unit such Indian Officer or Non--Commissioned officer will be required to serve.

Reference your No.11656 dated 8th June 1917, para 3 I have the honor to forward attached hereto a copy of India Army Orders Nos.561 dated 12th October 1914 and 100 dated 8th March 1915 also Nos.568 and 642 of 1915 wherein you will note that temporary promotions to Officer's rank are not to be made. Moreover it is undesirable to introduce such a custom.

So would you please inform the Secretary, General Department, accordingly, as doubtless he is not aware of this.

2. The promotions of these two Jemadars should be made substantive and when the trained officers are ready available at the Depot, then suitable action can be taken, meanwhile such vacancies in the Field should be filled up as they occur.

Reference your No.1023 dated 27th July 1917 and para 2 of your No.11656 dated 8th June 1917 to which it refers I have the honor to state that in my opinion the proposal by the Durbar to allot a certain percentage of the vacancies amongst Jemadars to suitable direct commissions may well be accepted and given effect to as far as is practicable.

2. It should be noted however that it is unlikely that such officers can be sufficiently trained to take any place of command in the field in any period of less than six months moreover, if direct commissions they will be lacking in ---- experience, in routine duties as well as in Military knowledge

3. So, I would suggest that suitable officers for such vacancies be selected and put under training as probationers at the Depot when each one is considered sufficiently traine and otherwise suitable, he can be despatched to the Field, but still on probation if reported on as thoroughly efficient, th he can be confirmed in the rank reckoning his seniority from the date on which his probation commenced.

4. In ordinary peace times such a probationer might take the place of a vacancy but in time of war this is undersirabl and all vacancies should be filled at once with efficient and experienced individuals-so these probationers should be supernumerary till efficient, and then be absorbed on --- confirmation in their rank to fill the first subsequent vacancy.

5. The number of such probationers to be maintained under training might be limited to a minimum of two and a maximum of four, and very great care in their selection is necessary. They should be made to understand clearly that they are on probatio and that confirmation in their appointment depends on their keenness, knowledge gained and general efficiency in all their duties.
